This four-day course will prepare instructor-candidates to perform in the classroom. It is a pre-requisite course for all LESB-approved specialized training courses. Competencies include planning and managing learning, training and evaluation methods, delivering teaching scenarios and other instructional strategies. Instructor-candidates will be expected to present in front of the class and be evaluated by their peers. They will also learn strategies for delivering and accepting constructive criticism in a controlled environment.

This curriculum is endorsed by the Law Enforcement Standards Board and is required of instructors seeking LESB certification.

Materials:

Students are required to bring a laptop (must have Windows 10 or newer) with PowerPoint installed and a flash drive.

Prerequisites:

Please complete the DJ-LE-335 located on WILENET and send to mashenfelter1@wctc.edu before 9/30/24. (This also includes a copy of your ACADIS transcripts and the DJ-LE-310 Release of Information as noted on the form.)

Instructors:

Assistant Chief Tom Wagner (WKPD), Lieutenant Gerald Habanek (WKPD-Ret) and Lieutenant Joe Hendricks (WKPD)
