The image of your police agency in the community is vital. It is inevitable that the media will either air a story about your department or one that will affect your agency. This class will discuss strategies on how to manage the media from a daily basis to a major event, including how to cover the positive side of your agency and your officers in the community.

Topics include:

- Developing/Maintaining Relationships with the Media
- Impact of National Media on Local Media during large cases
- Message Bases
- Press Conferences
- Press Releases
- Taped Interviews
- Types of Interactions with the Media

This course is intended for any municipal employee who may need to speak to the media including; Police Chiefs, Fire Chiefs, Command Staff, Public Information Officers (PIOs), School Superintendents, Administrative Staff, Municipal Leaders and Department Heads.

Instructor:

Capt. Dan Baumann has been employed with the Waukesha Police Department for 25 years. He has served in the Patrol Division, Criminal Investigation Division and the Special Services Division, having Commanded all three. During his professional career, both in the military and in law enforcement he has had the opportunity to be a first-line supervisor, middle-manager and work in the executive leadership team. Captain Baumann earned a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice, obtained a master's degree in management and is a graduate of the FBI National Academy Session 272. Dan is the Public Information Officer for his agency and during the Christmas parade tragedy mass casualty event he served as the Public Information Officer for the City of Waukesha.
