"Instructors were excellent. They definitely taught me how to be an excellent instructor."

"This class was excellent. I will highly recommend this course to anyone considering IDC. I was never once bored during the training. It was a fun learning environment."

"Thought it would be a long four days, but time flew!"

Attendees April 2025

This four-day course will prepare instructor-candidates to perform in the classroom. It is a pre-requisite course for all LESB-approved specialized training courses. Competencies include planning and managing learning, training and evaluation methods, delivering teaching scenarios and other instructional strategies. Instructor-candidates will be expected to present in front of the class and be evaluated by their peers. They will also learn strategies for delivering and accepting constructive criticism in a controlled environment.

This curriculum is endorsed by the Law Enforcement Standards Board and is required of instructors seeking LESB certification.

Materials:

Students are required to bring a laptop (must have Windows 10 or newer) with PowerPoint installed and a flash drive.
